

Dearest Brethren,

I had it in my heart to write a short update to you all... It must needs be for we are about to go preach at a Hillsong conference.

With many tears and broken hearts we dropped off Damien at the airport to head to you brethren in America. He has greatly fallen... but, staggeringly, God seems to not be giving up on him. I cannot understand all of his judgments - they are past finding out, I cannot attain unto them. O! how I have wept my heart out for this fallen brother, and how pitiful is his condition! HAVE MERCY, MY GOD!

Please pray as I have exactly two weeks left with these brethren here... We will be preaching all day today, Lord willing, and will have an assembly together tomorrow. I have been and plan to continue closely discipling Matthew and David, as well as continuing to establish the brethren in the faith here. God is on the move. Please continue to pray for God's poor servant. We will probably be taking a trip south soon to Melbourne and Adelaide, with many burdens to prove along the way. Pray for Forbes Morrison - this is a mighty man, grievously fallen... Lord willing, we should be going after him.

If you have any words, please contact me via Facebook.

I love you and miss you all.

The God of peace and grace be with you all.

Yours Affectionately,
Jake
