

Brethren, I just wanted to make you aware of a woman on Facebook that I noticed many of you are friends with named Paula Browning. Please be careful as she seems suspicious for a number of reasons. I would encourage you to defriend her unless expressly led to pursue her deliberately to preach to her. She is most likely up to mischief. Please be careful dear brethren when befriendng people who have only just joined Facebook this year and have stuff posted that we would all agree with it generally as if to allure us. Love you,

Brother Cory
