
Dearest Brethren,

This is the song that I spoke of at the beginning of the Lord's Day assembly last week that the Lord had given me a few days before... I have desired to record an acceptable version for you, but have not been granted liberty heretofore... Well, the Lord granted grace this evening as I was led to play it for our fallen brother Mike, and hoped the Lord would be pleased to let me kill two birds with one stone. Hallelujah! Here it is, beloved brethren... May you all be built up in your most holy faith.

Yours In The Common Faith,
Jake

*O my God, you are so holy,
You humble yourself to behold,
The heavens of heavens.*

*O Lord Jesus, you took my nature,
You condescended to indwell me:
Forever indebted.*

*From the first day I met you,
All I wanted to do was break my life before you:
A victim of love.*

*Your call is holy and I'm unworthy,
This fills my heart with holy yearning,
To be all that you want.*

Refrain:

*I've fought a good fight,
Finished my course,
Kept the faith (to the end)!*

*Then I remember all my rebellion,
O you suffered long under my transgressions -
What a fool have I been!*

*How can the captives of your beauty,
Turn from the commandment, O so holy?
My heart is shattered.*

Refrain

*No man can love you that doesn't obey you,
So I keep your commandments: they're a song in the night
To your holy one.*

*Now I'll spend my days till my latest hours,
Singing this love song of pure obedience:
It's a love song...*

Refrain
