Dear brethren,

Brother Mark has been physically sick the last week, but in his sickness he still wanted to work for the Lord, and thus he has made audio recordings of the reading assignments that brother Sean Morris has sent out this past week. Attached are audio versions of the first two chapters of Sean's new book that he has been telling us of, that we could listen to them while we work, cook, etc. Mark asks that if you are edified, please send him a text so he can know whether or not to continue investing time in continuing to record the chapters that should be sent to us in the near future.

God bless,
Sean Sanders
